

Dictionaries often use a multi-column layout to save space, with running headers indicating keyword entries on that page. Notice how letters are rotated and shown on tabs on the side of right pages. The fonts used in this sample PDF are Satyr and Faunus, made by Monokrom. Archive.org has a scanned copy of the printed edition of this Old Icelandic dictionary from 1910.

Prince is often used to generate PDF invoices from HTML pages. Customers first see the invoice on their screen, and then receive a printable PDF version for their records. Here you will find two examples of invoices, one colorful, the other more conservative.